The Ed. Foundation Digital Application Process FAQs

This year, The Ed. Foundation is using a new, digital grant application process. Here are a few tips that can help you navigate it. Please contact grants@theedfoundation.org with any questions.

How can I obtain a digital grant application?

The digital grant application is available via Google Form! We hope the submission process will be easy, intuitive and familiar.

How will The Ed. Foundation receive the necessary administrator sign-offs on my application?

A complete application must include both the Google application form and an Administrator Authorization form. If you are unsure if your project has implications that must be considered by district administrators beyond your building, please discuss the project with your principal or contact grants@theedfoundation.org to ensure your application is as accurate as possible. You can print, scan and submit your Administrator Authorization form via email to grants@theedfoundation.org, separate from the Google application form. Please make sure to use the same Project title on both forms. A representative from The Ed. Foundation will confirm when both pieces of your application have been received. At that point, your project application will be considered complete.

I plan to submit multiple grant applications this year. Can I use the same digital application for all of my projects?

No. Every digital grant application is unique and can only be used for one, specific project. You may submit as many Google application forms as you wish. You must submit a separate Administrator Authorization form for each Project application.

Can I continue to edit my digital grant application after I've submitted it?

Yes! Upon submitting your Google application form, you will receive a confirmation email with a link to access and edit the form. You may edit your application until you submit your Administrator Authorization form. For example, if you submit your Google application form and subsequently receive feedback from a relevant administrator during the sign-off process, you may edit the form to reflect their input. Once The Ed. Foundation confirms receipt of both pieces of your application (Google application form and Administrator Authorization form), you may not edit your Google application form.

How can I provide supplemental materials with my digital application?

The digital application allows you to attach relevant materials at various points throughout the form. If you have additional materials that are not able to be captured in the Google application form, please contact grants@theedfoundation.org to discuss your need.

Do I need specific software or other applications to use the digital application?

Nope! That's the beauty of Google Forms. If you have trouble accessing the Google application form, please contact grants@theedfoundation.org for support.

Something's not working. Send help!

Don't worry, glitches happen, and can usually be easily resolved! Contact grants@theedfoundation.org if you encounter any technical issues with the new digital application process.

The Ed. Foundation Grant Application FAQs

Thank you for your commitment to Port Washington's students. The following information may help facilitate your Ed. Foundation application. For all other questions, email grants@theedfoundation.org.

How will my application be evaluated?

The Ed. Foundation respects the time spent on every proposal and carefully considers each one. A committee of Ed. Foundation board members, of varied backgrounds and experience, evaluates each application on its own merits, without consideration for parity among the schools or subject areas. During the review process, committee members may contact applicants for further information. Finally, the committee presents all recommended projects to The Ed. Foundation board for a vote of approval. Applicants are notified of funding decisions in a timely fashion.

How many grants can be awarded to one applicant?

There is no limit to the number of grants an applicant may be awarded in any one year, or over the course of many years.

How does The Ed. Foundation work with Port Washington school district administration?

The Ed. Foundation partners with the District to foster educational excellence, community engagement, educator enthusiasm and student achievement. To ensure that projects are feasible and supported by the District, every application must be approved by ALL participating school principals. If a project will impact any school district facility, grounds or technology, the approval signatures of appropriate district administrators are also required.

What kinds of projects have the best chance of getting funded?

The Ed. Foundation seeks to fund innovative, enriching projects that directly benefit students. Compelling applications:

- Are clearly written, offer specific responses to all application questions, and include detailed budgets.
- Impact the greatest number of students possible in a considered, cost-effective way.
- Showcase innovation, while building on existing curriculum.
- Bridge different subject areas and/or are otherwise collaborative, among educators, schools, or with other community partners.
- Have a reasonable chance of becoming part of the school district's programs.
- Clearly articulate why continued or additional funding is needed, if the project is already in use.

Are there any projects The Ed. Foundation won't fund?

The Ed. Foundation is unlikely to fund requests that:

- Are not tied into curriculum (e.g., a piece of building equipment or infrastructure in isolation).
- The school district already funds (e.g., new textbooks to replace outdated ones).
- Do not directly benefit students (e.g., staff training or development that does not directly impact the student experience).

What does it mean to accept partial funding?

Grant recipients may receive funding from multiple sources, including other organizations or the school district. The Ed. Foundation encourages applicants to explore all funding possibilities prior to application submission. If the project cannot be executed without full funding from the Ed. Foundation, applicants should NOT indicate that they will accept partial funding.

My project received funding from The Ed. Foundation! Now what?

- Each grantee is assigned a board liaison from The Ed. Foundation who will serve as the principal contact for that grant.
- The Ed. Foundation must be informed, in writing, of any changes to timing, scope or location prior to project commencement.
- Grant recipients should inform students' parents/guardians that an Ed. Foundation-funded program is taking place.
- An Ed. Foundation representative may observe and photograph the project for publication, in print, Online or on social media.
- At the end of a project, grant recipients must provide The Ed. Foundation with a written project evaluation and may be asked to present to The Ed. Foundation and/or other groups.

January 2025

Dear Port Washington School District,

Over the next few months, the Ed. Foundation will be accepting grant applications for the 2025-2026 school year. I strongly encourage you to look at this as an opportunity to enhance the learning experience for your students.

The Ed. Foundation has been awarding grants since 2001, and this past year's grant cycle resulted in 48 grants for our students and staff. The criteria for a grant is based on the number of students served, creativity of the project, budget, and the overall impact it would have on the school and students.

The Ed. Foundation is an amazing organization, and I hope you will consider submitting a grant application.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Chris Shields".

Christopher B. Shields, Ed.D.
